

Make a difference this Christmas

The perfect Christmas present - 100% of the proceeds going to Cambodian orphans.

Food for the Soul is a heart warming, 148-page Cambodian cookbook, with 100% of the proceeds going to the charity - 'Together for Cambodia'.

Together for Cambodia is a not for profit orphanage, located in Siam Reap. After decades of war and turmoil, the area remains one of the regions poorest nations. The orphanage is currently home to over 40 children, providing them with health, nutrition and education on a daily basis.

Chef Chan Uoy is the owner of the award-winning Cambodian restaurant, Bopha Devi, and is a former Cambodian child refugee himself. Uoy has kindly donated recipes from his personal collection for Food for the Soul, a gesture he hopes will help these children in need.

'This is a way for me to reconnect with my heritage and give back to the children of Cambodia; they are the future generation and need the love and support all children deserve.' Chan Uoy said.

With 100% of the proceeds donated to the orphanage, it's a wonderful Christmas present for all the family this festive season; one that will not only give you a chance to explore the exotic Cambodian cuisine, but will also make a huge difference to the children who need it the most.

Many talented people are to thank, all donating their time and skills for the production of Food for the Soul; Sunshine Coast publisher Michael Kramer, food photographer Rob Hamilton, Alessandro Vanucci who supplied Cambodian life images, Roslyn Jackson and Jemma Pearson who designed, edited and wrote the content and David Rule from PMP, who printed 10,000 copies.

Food for the Soul is available in all Spotlight stores throughout Queensland, RRP $20.00 AUD. You can also show your support for the poverty in Cambodia by purchasing a handmade bag for a only $7.95 from Spotlight stores nationally, with all profits going to the Stitch in Time Charity.
